Rumors of War Between France and Prussia--Cabinet Meeting--Republican Party Organization--The District Militia--Suicides--Appointments Under the Whisky and Tobacco Law.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 18, 1868.

RUMORS OF FOREIGN WAR.

A rumor was circulated yesterday that cable dispatches had been received by one or both of the diplomatic representatives of France and Prussia, stating that the relations between these two powers were about to be disturbed by war. The French legation here regards this rumor absurd and not worthy of serious consideration, nor has the Prussian Minister received any information to that effect. There is nothing whatever in the relations of the countries, as far as known here, to justify such conclusion, and there is authority for saying that no agents for the French Government, as published, have been positively engaged in different parts of this country in purchasing horses and forage for shipment to France.

ORGANIZATION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY.

Letters received at the Republican headquarters show that the organization of the party for the campaign will be much more thorough than ever before. The number of auxiliary organizations of different kinds is unprecedented, and with a large part of them correspondence has already been begun. It is expected that in a majority of the counties of the Northern States the names of every Republican voter will be registered upon the books of some organization, and that the estimates of the probable result will, therefore, be very close. The Congressional Committee have been sending out abont twenty-five thousand documents per week, and from this time to the close of the canvess they expect to average from fifty to one hundred thousand weekly. They have a new list ready, which will be furnished upon application.

MILITIA OF THE DISTRICT.

General Canby has not yet received any order to disband the militia organizations in the city. Last November when the President addressed a letter to General Grant directing him to disband the colored militia companies the letter was referred for execution to General Emory, who carried it back in person to General Grant and informed him that there was no authority for such a proceeding, since martial law did not prevail here. With this in substance endorsed upon it. the letter was returned to the President, who has since been content to let the subject rest.

STOREKEEPERS APPOINTED.

The following gentlemen have been appointed storekeepers under the new Internal Revenue Law: R. H. Cochrane, Sixth District, Kentucky; Benj. N. Brooks, First District, Illinois; John W. Gregary, Twelfth District, Pennsylvania; C. C. Burr, Second District, Virginia; Uzziah Stewart, Twenty-second District, Pennsylvania; and J. J. Turman, 25th District, Pennsylvania.

So far about eight guagers have been appointed under the new law, and nominations for similar offices are being daily considered.

The Secretary of the Treasury has not yet taken any action with regard to appointment of Supervisors.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue will have an interview with the Secretary of the Treasury to-morrow, when it is probable definite action will be taken on the nominations now pending.

Nothing is yet done in relation to the appointment of Collector of Customs, either for Alaska or New Orleans.

CABINET MEETING.

Secretary Schofield returned to Washington this morning and was to-day in attendance at the Cabinet meeting. All the other members, except Secretary Welles, were present. It is probable the appointments of Collectors of Customs at Alaska and New Orleans were under consideration. For both of these positions there are numerous applications.

GAUGER AT CHICAGO.

Wm. B. Storm, one of the chiefs of division in the Second Auditor's office, who was lately rejected by the Senate for Consul at Leeds, has been appointed Gauger of Internal Revenue at Chicago.

RESIGNATION ACCEPTED.

The resignation of Solomon Alexander Bliss, Assistant Quartermaster of the U. S. A., has been accepted, to take effect from the 31st of March last. Colonel Bliss is at present Secretary of the American Legation at Berlin.

CONGRESS.

Southern members are still urging a session of Congress next month, expressing fears that they will not be allowed a peaceable election in the South unless some further protective laws are passed in favor of Unionists.

SUICIDES.

This morning a German named Henry Herrick, keeper of a restaurant, committed suicide by shooting himself through the head.

THE INDIANS.

More Outrages--Troops in Pursuit.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 18.—A letter datad Ellsworth, Kansas, on the 14th inst. says: On Monday, the 12th, a band of some two hundred Indians appeared on Spellman's Creek, about sixteen miles northeast of Ellsworth; arriving at the house of a Mr. Shaw, they caught and beat him unmercifully and drove him away. The devils then caught Mrs. Shaw and her sister, and violated their persons. Some thirty or more of them continued to abuse these helpless women until long after they had become senseless, and then destroying the property left them for dead. They then proceeded to the residence of Mr. Smith and beat him in the same manner, and violated the person of his wife, leaving her in a very critical condition. It is feared that the women subjected to these outrages will not recover. They met and abused several other citizens by beating, and after destroying all within their reach they left for the north. These poor woman say that for five or six hours they were subjected to ill treatmont, and they show marks of the most cruel usage made by being beaten in the attempt to defend themselves. A detachment of twenty soldiers were sent after the Indians from Fort Harker, accompanied by fifty or sixty settlers. On Wednesday night they sent for reinforcements, and on Thursday a full company, under the command of Col. Bentine, went over. The latest report was that Col. Bentine has come on the Indians, who had some ten or fifteen women surrounded in a house, and that he had driven the red skins away, but whether he killed any of them or not was not known. These are probably the same Indians who have been murdering and committing other outrages on Solomon Creek.

THE CATTLE DISEASE.

Action of New York Commissioners—Regulations for Disinfection, &c.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 18.—The Commissioners convened here yesterday at the request of Governor Fenton to take such action as they should deem proper to prevent the introduction and spreading of contagious cattle disease, have prepared and promulgated rules and regulations governing the introduction, quarantine and disinfection of such cattle, and the cars, vessels, &c., in which they may have been transported. These Commissioners, under the laws of this State, are clothed with full power and authority in the matter, and also to appoint Assistant Commissioners clothed with all the power conferred on the Commissioners or their agents. They announce they have appointed such Assistant Commissioners for the various localities infected or suspected of having been infected or exposed to infection. The objects of this Commission are to obtain a complete history of the disease for future use and this is made a part of the duties of the Assistant Commissioners. The Commissioners direct that—

First—All cars containing cattle will be stopped at the most convenient point on or before entering the State, and if such cars are not in proper sanitary condition, the cattle, even though healthy, are to be disembarked and the cars thoroughly cleaned and disinfected. After the completion of this process, if the cattle continue healthy, they can be re-shipped. Such cars, upon reaching such further point or points of inspection as may be designated by this Baard, will be again inspected, and if found unclean will be subject to such other stoppage, cleaning and disinfection as may be deemed necessary.

Secondly—If at any point on the line of any railroad or railroads said Assistant Commissioners shall learn by inspection or information of the existence of the disease in cars, they shall be stopped at some convenient point where they have reason to believe no infection exists, such cars thoroughly cleaned and disinfected, the sick taken from the well and kept under proper sanitary restrictions and medical treatment. If any such cattle are slaughtered, the skins must be thoroughly disinfected, properly preserved and kept on the premises or deeply buried. The carcase of the animal itself should be either tried into tallow in the most approved manner, or with offal, &c., should be deeply buried. Cattle sick with this disease should not be slaughtered until in the judgment of the Commissioner or his assistant they are past recovery. The well cattle exposed to this disease should be removed from the cars to some distance and furnished with a sufficiency of water and food with salt, and well kept under proper surveillance for such a period as may be directed from time to time. All places, yards, or fields in which cattle sick, or in which cattle have been exposed to disease are to be kept disinfected. Sick cattle and all such as have been exposed and in which the disease may be incubating should be kept in an enclosure separated from all cattle by neutral ground of at least 1,000 feet. All cattle yards or places in which diseased cattle or cattle exposed to disease may have been must be thoroughly cleansed and disinfected before being again used for herding other cattle. If in the judgment of the Commissioners and their assistants such yards or reception places for cattle are not susceptible of being cleansed and disinfected, they will be cleansed, &c., as well as may be, and closed, and other cleaner places be substituted therefor.

Thirdly—All cattle being sent to market on entering the stall or being carried on vessels, or being driven on public highways, will be subjected to the same careful inspection and sanitary restrictions as above for those offered in cars.

Elaborate Instructions are given relative to the disinfection of the clothes and persons of parties who have charge of any diseased cattle.

ALLIANCE COLLEGE

Its Origin--Progress and Completion of its Buildings--Dedicatory Services--Opening Session, &c.

Alliance College is situated in Alliance, Stark county, Ohio. Two years since Rev. A. B. Way, with a few of his friends, conceived the idea of building a college, and immediately the conception was carried into execution, and the result is a splendid structure suited to all the purposes of a first class college. The building is justly regarded, alike by architects and educators, as one of the most convenient and complete in the State. It is 100x102 feet, four stories, with eight recitation rooms, each 33 feet square. The Chapel is 35x63 feet; Laboratory, 33x20; Audience Hall, 66x100, with a beautifully frescoed ceiling. It will comfortably seat twelve hundred persons. There are a number of smaller rooms for offices, reception rooms, &c. A large boarding hall, exclusively for ladies, is in process of erection, designed to accommodate one hundred boarders. The grounds are sufficiently spacious for out door recreations; they are very tastefully laid out, and beautifully ornamented with trees and shrubs. The entire cost of buildings, grounds, Philosophical and Chemical apparatus will reach one hundred and fifty thousand dollars. One hundred thousand has already been donated and applied, and a large portion of the balance provided for. This magnificent result is largely if not wholly due to the indefatigable efforts of Mr. Way, who has induced his friends to donate this large sum of money for educational purposes.

Thursday, August 13th, was set apart for a formal dedication of the building. Feeling an interest in the College we were present at the appointed hour for the services. An audience of fully fifteen hundred persons was in attendance. Soon the platform was occupied by the President of the College, Rev. Isaac Errett, A. M., Editor of the Christian Standard, of Cleveland, and the Professors of the several departments, with a large number of ministerial friends from different portions of the country. The exercises commenced with a voluntary by the choir. Then followed the reading of the 8th chapter of Proverbs by Dr. J. P. Robinson of Cleveland. Rev. J. H. Jones of Alliance offered prayer, when Dr. Robinson introduced President Errett, who proceeded to deliver the Inaugural or Dedicatory Address. Mr. Errett said:

ADDRESS.

It is difficult to indulge in novelties in this age of education and educational facilities. Our mission is to present not novelties nor theories but acknowledged truths, and to enforce and to give them greater efficiency. We propose no schemes, no hobbies. We indulge in and cherish no specialities, but desire to enter the sister-hood of educational institutions as co-workers in blessing and elevating the race. He would ask what is education? It is not something imparted, it is not simply instruction; instruction is a means to an end—an instrument of education—education as the word imports, is the leading out, or developing of the latent powers of the living persons. The objective point of all educational effort is to make the most of the powers given us by God. As we possess different capacities and are fitted by nature for widely differing pursuits, there can be no fixed or definite standard of educational proficiency by which to measure men. It is the province of Education to correct errors and to enable every man to make the best possible use of his gifts, and he is best educated who makes the most of his natural powers. Education must, therefore, be adapted to the subject and systems of education; if rational, must be almost as varied as the tastes, capacities and employments of men. Man is emphatically a creature of Education, not to the destruction of accountability, but education modifies responsibility. Man left to himself is a barbarian. The soul of man is in darkness and speaks not in the fullness of its power until enlightened by the rising sun of knowledge, when the latent powers are warmed into life and activity. There is no limit to the growth of the soul. We may educate plants, fruits and animals, but these soon find a limit, but man is the subject of unlimited progress. Under the hand of the skillful educator no bounds may be set to human progress and happiness. We have plausible theories of the goodness and capacities of human nature and of man's power, unaided, to rise in the scale of existence, but without foreign aid man is a savage and remains a savage, as all history attests. Man rises only by help from his fellows, who, under God, may be able to lift him from degradation. In this we have the philosophy of all our educational effort; hence our mission to bear an humble part in the work of human progress, and to this end we to-day dedicate this building, a free gift of a generous Christian people. Education does not destroy native powers nor give new ones, but modifies what we already possess. Education makes the man. Man uneducated is the creature of circumstances drifting on the ocean of life without chart or compass, the sport of the winds and waves, and can never reach the harbor of safety. Educated, he controls circumstances, making them subservient to his will. Whether, therefore, our children shall be controlled or control the circumstances of life to profit—whether they shall be imbruted and wallow in the mire, or, ennobled, soaring heavenward in their aspirations depends largely on their education. But we need increased educational facilities for self-preservation—not only as individuals and families, but as a nation. The nation must be educated. The large influx of foreigners, daily augmenting our population, thrown among us with false notions of men, society, God and religion, must be educated, or they will use their newly acquired privileges to our injury and overthrow. We must control this element of the body politic, or it will control us, and the only remedy in our hands is increased educational facilities.

The freedmen likewise must be educated, that they may be proof against the designs of artful and unscrupulous demagogues, who already seek to control them for selfish ends, in opposition to the public good. Education is the only means by which this large class of men can be conserved for the good of the nation. We must, by increased and increasing light, develop their manhood and loyalty, and lift them above the plane of traitors. The question of self-government is yet an experiment, and if we would make it a success we must educate the masses. As every man, woman and child of the nation is in a sense a citizen to perpetuate our liberties, we must scatter broadcast the seeds of knowledge. The times demand an universal and wide-spread effort in behalf of a more general education. If God had intended the few only to be educated, he would not have given brains to the many, which gift is a prophecy—an indicator of his will, saying, educate the people, for the future of freedom must fall and Religion herself must lose her power for she can only exert her influence in contact with educated mind. To give religious truth its greatest efficiency we must precede the Missionary of the Cross, by the educational instrumentalities; we must make the aristocracy of letters, as well as the nation's domain, if we would realize the nation's hope. We need not only the education of all, but of each in every department of his nature.

We need Physical Education. The muscles are as much the subjects of education as the mind. This department has been greatly neglected; indeed, we are just awakening to its importance, and beginning to realize its necessity. A false Theology has taught us, if not to despise, greatly to neglect the body and to believe that neither knowledge nor goodness can find a lodgment in a fully formed physical man, It magnifies the soul at the expense of the body. In the judgment of many, in order to be a saint it is necessary to be afflicted with some one of the numerous diseases to which flesh has become heir; and to be a possessor of wisdom, we must needs have cultured the mind at the expense of the body, until our physical powers are impaired and we are in "feeble health." This condition of our physical man becomes a passport to educated Society, and the extent of our knowledge is measured by our physical feebleness. This building has been constructed and these ample grounds provided with an eye to physical education. The day is past when we shall be taught either to despise or neglect the physical man. The body is God's master piece of mechanism. It is fearfully and wonderfully made and when sanctified becomes the temple of the Holy Spirit. Man has also an intellectual nature subject of education; to this department, in common with our co-laborers we will direct our attention. Efforts are being made, we apprehend, in the interests of Atheism to give undue prominence to the physical sciences to the neglect of ancient languages and literature. The study of languages may have had too great prominence in our schools, yet we cannot but regard the present effort to limit education to the demonstrative sciences as a step unwarranted and wholly in the service of a sensuous and Atheistic philosophy. Harmonious intellectual culture, demands that attention should be directed to man himself as well as to external nature, and to study man, to know ourselves, we must become familiar with man in all ages; and this can only be attained by the study of the language and literature of nations. This will lead us to give in our course of instruction a place to ancient and modern languages. We seek no extremes, indulge in no specialties, have no pet theories to which we wish to bend a course of study, but seek a normal and harmonious intellectual development. It is folly, however, to educate all alike—to give in every case prominence to the same studies. Men should be educated in reference to their business in life. The education of a farmer and a lawyer should be very different in order that each may be fitted for his future position and duties.

We shall have regard, in our courses of study to the purposed pursuits of life and shall modify them to suit individual necessities. Here I desire to invite to these halls ladies. The time was when the Bible and cook book were thought a sufficient library for ladies, and meagre attainments in reading and arithmetic were regarded as a good education, but the signs of the times clearly indicate a more ample field of labor for woman. We are aware of the many theories—extravagant some of them may be—in reference to the rights and wrongs of woman. Without espousing or condemning any of these, we wish to say that woman has a peculiar sphere and mission in life to which her own native instincts will lead her, and to fit her for duties and responsibilities she must have education such as she needs. We place upon her no restrictions; we prescribe for her no special course of study. She is now the educator of the race as wife, mother, teacher, author and editor. She has worked her way without special encouragement from any to high places in the walks of literature and science, and it is not for us to proscribe, to set bounds to her aspirations. We invite her to these halls. There is no conrse of study nor field of labor but which should be opened to her choice.

But we need more. The complex nature of man is not exhausted by body and mind. Man has a spiritual, a higher nature, which must be recognized in a compiete course of education. We must educate the mind, not as an end, but as an instrument. To limit education to the mind is to prepare an instrument but fail to provide motive power for its use. This motive power is found in an educated spirituality—our relations to God and Eternity are matters of chief importance in life, and should have due attention. We speak of no mere sectarian instruction in the tactics of any religious party, but of the culture of the soul in all its relations and dependencies. This is a field of labor into which the State dare not enter. In public schools meet the children of the various conflicting creeds of Christendom—which necessarily forbids the entrance of an open and untramelled Bible—even our best colleges have, no doubt, for good reasons largely neglected the culture of the soul, so that it is not an uncommon thing for young men to return from College deeply imbued with a pantheistic philosophy entirely banishing God from the mind, heart and life. Intellectual Education without a knowledge of God is a curse and not a blessing. To educate the mind, leaving our spiritual nature in ruins, is only giving talons to the eagle and claws to the tiger. We have educated traitors and villains of every grade, men who possess intellectual strength, with depraved hearts; such education is a curse. Whilst therefore we seek to educate the mind much, we shall labor to cultivate the heart more.

We shall labor daily to bring to bear on the heart the love of God and the hope of Heaven. We shall bring our Lord Jesus Christ into these halls and retain him here, that all may learn patiently to bear life's burdens and to glorify God.

We aim not to give a report of the language of the learned gentlemen, but simply an outline of the address in our own words. It was replete with thought, apposite in illustration, appropriate to the occasion, just in sentiment, convincing in argument and deeply imbued with the love of God. The address was followed by the dedicatory prayer offered by Rev. Wm. Baxter, of New Lisbon. Several thousand dollars were then pledged for the benefit of the College. The benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. Lanphere, of Salem, after which the audience slowly dispersed and Alliance College was dedicated. May it do good service for God and humanity, and may ample blessings rest upon the generous men and women who have by their liberal donations so nobly aided the cause of education.

W. S. GRAY.

—Port-au-Prince advices of the 8th inst., state that the Cacos, after capturing the war schooner Sylvan, found aboard a curate, the Minister of War, and President Solnave's mother. The President was preparing to marry a wealthy lady and embark on a United States man-of-war for the United States. He is constantly insulting foreigners, and has imprisoned the Prussian Consul and some Englishmen. On the same day the British Minister protested, demanding protection for the British subjects in the country, but Solnave threatened his life. The inhabitants of the Capital are in constant fear. The British man-of-war Favorite was preparing to bombard the city, and it was expected that General Patria Faubere would thereafter enter the place.

A CAMPAIGN SONG,

ADAPTED FROM SCOTT.

Arouse! arouse! the standard flies,
The bugle sounds the call;
The loyal flag floats in the breeze,
The name of Grant swells through the trees,
Swells from the lips of all.

From high Katahdin's peaks we come,
A band of brother's true;
From Colorado's hills and vales,
From California's golden dales,
The gallant boys in blue.

Though Seymour's minions cry for war
We know their ways of old,
They slept when Southern rebels fought,
They held the sword, but used it not,
Their birthright's would have sold.

Oh! had they marked the warning call
Their fathers's spirits gave,
Foul treason ne'er their ranks had mown
Nor honest patriots, desperate grown,
Dug their dishonored grave.

Shall we, too, bow the stubborn head,
In Freedom's temple born,
Tremble with knee and shoulder bent,
Before a dastard President,
Or brooke a Seymour's scorn?

No! once again throughout the land
We'll shout the watchword out;
Our votes shall prove again to-day
That Freedom and Honor still hold sway,
Still can foul Treason rout.

Arouse! arouse! for General Grant
And Colfax let us shout!
We'll save our nation's honor yet,
Repudiate no cent of debt
And fling our banner out.

Remarkable Discovery of Stolen Bonds.

A large sum, in U. S. bonds, stolen by a New York Postoffice clerk, last fall, were retained by him, under a sentiment of remorse, for an opportunity to restore them. And now comes the strangest part of the story. The brother of this man, a merchant, residing in New Jersey, made discovery of these bonds, and became thief No. 2 by stealing one-half of them from the original offender, and taking them into his own possession. The loss was not discovered by thief No. 1, who had not missed them to the day of the arrest. This brother seemed also to find no use for his ill-gotten gains, and for months they remained quietly in his possession.

In the meantime, another brother, a lad of but about fourteen years, came across the treasure which was held by thief No. 2, and in turn became thief No. 3, by abstracting three hundred dollars, the loss of which remainced unknown to his predecessor in crime up to the final exposure. This boy found out a preparation for removing ink from paper, applied it, made the necessary indorsements, and passed the paper. The bond was quickly recognized and traced to thief No. 3, and through him to No. 2, and thence to No. 1, who was perfectly astonished, as he supposed the whole sum to be still in his own possession.

A Tale of a Shirt.

A few weeks ago a couple of well appearing but very poor contrabands came to Elkhorn, and put up for the night with one of our benevolent Republican townsmen. They were in very poor circumstances, their clothing being in a very dilapidated condition. The next morning the generous hearted lady of the house went around to the neighbors to get some clothing for the aforesaid contrabands, and among other places she went to the house of a well known Democrat. She told him that there was a gentleman from South Carolina at her house who was in very indigent circumstances and needed clothing, especially a shirt. The lady of the house was in favor of giving a half-worn garment, but "No," said our valiant Democrat, "give him the best shirt I have got," and the best garment in the house was forthcoming. A short time after, what was our Democratic friend's surprise and mortification on coming up town, as he expressed it, "To meet a d—d nigger with my shirt on!" The idea of a negro being a "gentleman" had never entered his head before.—Elkhorn (Wis.) Independent.

THE Emperor Alexander, of Russia, has issued instructions for a revision of the barbarous criminal code, still valid in Russia. Branding with a red-hot iron, to which all second-class convicts are subjected, is to be abolished. This will put an end to the horrible scenes which were regularly enacted at St. Petersburg and other large Russian cities, whenever a number of convicts were despatched to Siberia. They are now, on the morning of their departure, led out of their cell, tied to a bench, and branded on the forehead and on both cheeks; they then receive a certain number of lashes, are chained together, and driven off like cattle. The screams of the wretches on this occasion may be heard for miles. Ten executioners have all their hands full of business, as not less than one hundred convicts are sent off to Siberia at a time. About one-fifth of the convicts (women and persons belonging to the higher classes) are exempt from flogging and branding.

CATTLE are not the only sufferers by the terrible plague which has come to us from Illinois. Its fatal results extend to human life. A young man named Abram Smith, in Troy, N. Y., skinned one of the cows that died on Wednesday last. His hands and arms were somewhat scratched by berry bushes, and in this manner the poisonous matter or virus was innoculated into his arm. The limb began to swell and pain him very much. He consulted a physician, but his condition rapidly grew worse, and on Saturday resulted in his death. A sister of the deceased, who attended him in his last illness, kissed him after his death, and was also infected by the disease. She was lying very low, and it is thought cannot recover. Another man named Ostrander was subsequently affected in the same manner, but is still alive. These facts show that caution should be used, not only in preventing the spread of the contagion, but in touching the deceased animals.

A CORRESPONDENT writes: "To see Niagara, you buy eleven silk dresses for your wife, and six shirts for yourself. You then get all the ready money you have, borrow all your friends have, and make arrangements for unlimited credit at two or three good, solvent banks. You then take six trunks, some more money, a nurse, a colored servant, some more money, and then, after getting some more money, and extending your credit at one or two more strong banks, you set out. It is better, if possible, just before you leave, to mortgage your homestead and get some more money."

THE heels of fashionable shoes worn by ladies are so small at the bottom as to afford little or no support to the ankles. This in part accounts for the peculiar walk of those who wear them, and this is causing many weak and sprained ankles for which there is no cure. An ankle once sprained is ever after liable to be injured by a very slight cause. No lady who values her comfort in life and her limbs upon which she depends for locomotion, will wear high heels, tapered off as is now the fashion.

GENERAL GLEASON, of the United States army, and later a leader of the Fenians, has gone to Virginia to reside, and purchased a farm near Savage's Station. He was in solitary confinement in Ireland several months, owing to his prominent connection with the Fenian movement. General Gleason was Colonel of the Sixty-ninth New York Volunteers.

RIVER NEWS.

The weather yesterday, was cloudy and unsettled with indications of rain. The river has undergone but little change, and with the exception of the Monongahela River packet, business is entirely suspended.

—The Emma No. 3 and Maggie Hays are loading at Cincinnati for New Orleans.

—New Orleans has a steamboatmen's Democratic Club, composed entirely of negroes.

—Captain Thomas Rodgers, of the Selma, arrived at St. Louis from Pittsburgh the other day.

—Barker Pierce & Co., of Cincinnati on Saturday, purchased Capt. McCarty's one fourth interest in the Swallow. Terms private.

—Chas. Hoffman, late chief clerk of steamer Lizzie Hopkins, died at Shreveport on the 12th, from what is known as Red river fever.

—The Dubuque Times of the 14th says: "The Northern line have advanced rates of freight to St. Louis to 38 cents for heavy pound freights per 100 pounds, and 37½ cents for lead. The White Collar is about to do the same."

—A flatboat containing 8 cars for the St. Louis & Iron Mountain Railroad, sunk below the ferry landing at Jeffersonville, early Friday morning. They were valued at $15,000, and insured in the Enterprise, of Cincinnati, for $8,000.

—At Little Rock, on Monday, the Arkansas was falling, with about eighteen inches to Fort Smith, and twenty-six inches to Pine Bluff, with sufficient water in the channel to Napoleon for the Van Buren and American, and water enough to points above Fort Smith.

—The Madison Courier says: A lady passenger on board the Lady Grace attempted to jump overboard while the boat was lying at the landing last night. Some of the officers of the boat discovered her intentions, and caught her just as she was in the act of plunging into the river.

—The towboats James Blackmore, N. J. Bigley, Sam Roberts, Lioness, Tigress, Coal Valley, Whale, Lake Erie, Laopard, Coal City, Coal Hill, Hornet, Niagra, Baltic, Stella, Simpson Horner, Leader, J. S. Neal and Tom Rees, were all lying at Buffington on the 15th. The Mary Ann is at Captina, and the Keystone at Wheeling.

—The St. Louis Democrat, of Saturday, says: Mr. J. H. Menge, late partner of the New Orleans boat store-house of Aiken & Menge, is here on a visit. Messrs. A. & M. have closed out the boat-store business in New Orleans, and will devote their attention to running steamboats on Red river. They own the B. L. Hodge and Monsoon, both of which are at present under repair.

—The Cincinnati Enquirer says: Much interest is manifested among our business men and steamboatmen in the movement here to get up an excursion for as many members of Congress as will join in it, extending from Pittsburgh to Cairo, that our National Legislators may see for themselves the pressing need and the importance of improving the navigation of the Ohio.

—At a meeting of Vicksburg merchants on Monday, Commodore Montgomery explained the notion of the Mississippi Navigation Company, which was to build, by subscription, a line of powerful and immense low-pressure steamers to ply between Cairo and New Orleans. He stated that $257,000 had already been subscribed toward building the first boat, which is under way at Louisville.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Gazette, of Monday: The America arrived from Cairo between eight and nine o'clock on Saturday night, but had a very small amount of freight for here. She towed a barge containing about 100,000 feet of lumber from Caseyville to Evansville. From Cloverport up the America made over 8 miles an hour in daylight. She will begin to receive immediately for Memphis, and is determined to go through.

—Referring to the contemplated visit of Captain Rhodes to Pittsburgh, to contract for a new steamer, the Dubuque Herald, of Friday says: The Northern Line Packet Company, whose stock is valued at 300 per cent. all the year round, in profitable or unprofitable seasons, have ordered another first class packet to be built, modeled after the Dubuque. This Company builds one or more packets every year, and thereby keeps up one of the best liues of steamers that plow the waters of the Upper Mississippi.

—We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Sunday: Mr. Walter Marratta, of the John H. Groesbeck, takes charge of the office of the Emma No. 3 this trip, in the place of Mr. James McConnell, who is lying very ill with billious fever.....The flags of the different steamers, at the wharf, were displayed at half-mast yesterday, in respect to the memory of Captain Wm. B. Dodson, of the Government snag boat J. J. Abert..... There are seventeen towboats now lying at the foot of Buffington, unable to get through, until the river rises. The little steamer Belle is now running from Parkersburg to Gallipolis, as a regular packet, in place of the Emma Graham. Capt. Ike Whittaker, of the R. C. Grav, leaves for Pittsburgh in this evening's train. He will return on Tuesday.

MEDICAL.

A GREAT CURE OF ASTHMA.

I feel myself under obligations to you, as well as a duty I owe to others who have been like sufferers with myself, in order that they may know where they can get cured. I had been subject to violent, continued attacks of ASTHMA for more than six years, and had been to great expense and to various medical men of experience without obtaining any permanent relief, or relieved at all. I was so bad that I never knew what it was to be free from the disease. I had to sit up in bed every night for weeks and weeks, without any prospect or hope of cure. My condition was such that I felt life a burthen, and when I got an attack I felt in danger of suffocating every moment. So terrible had been my suffering that my mother says that she has seen me so near suffocation that I was nearly black in the face from the desperate efforts made to get breath. In the cold winter nights, many a night, with the doors and windows of the house thrown wide open, in order to hinder the apparent danger of strangulation. In this condition, on the 13th of October, 1866, having heard of DR. KEYSER'S skill in curing this disease, I called on him, in company with my husband, Joseph Meyers, but I must confess with a great deal of doubt as to effecting a permanent cure. DR. KEYSER examined me carefully, and my lungs all over, with his LUNG SOUND, and told me that with care I would get well. I persevered with his medicines for over a year, and am to-day in vigorous health, and totally FREE FROM THE ASTHMA, and its terribly disagreeable attendants. I have had, once in a while, a slight attack of the disease, but I regard my health as entirely re-established, and if I do have any attack, a few doses of the Doctor's medicine immediately relieves cannot feel too thankful for the exemption from a disease which used to cost me whole weeks and months of loss of sleep, besides suffering which none but those who are subject to this disease can fully appreciate or describe.

NANCY MEYERS,
MARY MOUNT JOY, (her mother,)
GEORGIANA FISHER.

Birmingham, Dec. 9, 1867.

The case of Mrs. Meyers, recited above, is one of more than ordinary importance, because of the violence of the attacks, their continued length, and the great prostration of all the vital powers attending the disease. Any one who knew her during the time she was a sufferer from the disease of which she was cured, and will look at her now, the very picture of robust health, cannot but admit that the cure is one of more than ordinary character, inasmuch as we hear of Asthma every day of our lives, being a disease of an incurable nature. Let those who doubt investigate for themselves.

SIGHT RESTORED.

The case to which we allnded some weeks ago, of Christiana Fisher, of Beaver county, is now entirely confirmed by the appearance of Miss Fisher herself, who to-day called on DR. KEYSER in person, to thank him for his kindness and skill in restoring her to ENTIRE AND PERFECT SIGHT. Miss Fisher has been nearly blind for four months. She was so blind that she could not distinguish any object so as to make out what it was. The case is remarkable, as hundreds of cases like her's are doomed to never-ending darkness, on the flimsy pretext that there is no cure, and nothing can be done. She was under DR. KEYSER'S treatment for two months, and before she applied to him, through her brother, Simon P. Fisher, slight hopes were entertained of her ever getting her sight. Her case is well known in the neighborhood where she resides, and has been regarded as one of extraordinary recovery. We, the undersigned, know of the cure of Miss Fisher, and bear willing testimony to the fact above stated.

The case above referred to was entirely cured by medicines to purify the blood, and it is witnessed by scores of persons who have known Miss Fisher, and have a knowledge of her total restoration to health and the recovery of her sight, as the accompanying letter of her brother sets forth:

DR. KEYSER—This is the list of names that I have to your advertisement of the cure of my sister, Christiana Fisher. They were all willing to put their names down, and were very much astonished to see that you brought her sight so soon. My mother sends her thanks to you; she says "you are one of the greatest men in the world." She says if we had not come across you she believes her child would not be living at this time. We all join in sending our love and respects to you.

PULMONARY CONSUMPTION, RESULTING FROM PLEURISY, CURED.

Statement of GEORGE FORD, carpenter, of No. 16 Sampson street, Allegheny City:

I took a violent attack of pleurisy, in May, 1866, which left me with a cough lasting all summer, wearing away my strength and gradually undermining my health. During this attack of pleurisy I had several physicians of the highest reputation in the city. After I had partially recovered from the pleurisy, I was advised to go into the country, which I did, and when there I called in a doctor, who told me my left lung was affected, and that if something were not done soon I would die of CONSUMPTION. I lingered on from this time until about the middle of June, my cough and lung disease gradually growing worse, and I weaker every day, and almost despairing of ever getting well. In this state of despondency, and

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 145⅛.

CLAIMS to the amount of nearly $300,000 have already been presented, from the counties of Perry, Bedford and Franklin, to the Board which has been appointed to examine the claims of residents of the border counties of this State for damages sustained during the rebel invasions. The claims vary from $8,50 to $13,443,50 each. The Board is still sitting.

THE people of New York, and other Eastern and Northern cities, are feeling the full force of the excitement about diseased cattle. An apprehension is generally expressed that they have not yet seen the worst of it, and they wait anxiously for the further development which is to follow in due time after exposure to the contagion. From Providence, the reports are interesting. A small drove of the affected cattle were put under active medical treatment, and a large number of the diseased animals have recovered. Advantage was taken of English experience in the treatment of a kindred form of the distemper, and with that favorable result.

"The GAZETTE charges the war and the public debt upon the Democratic party. Has the GAZETTE forgotten when that party was called, in derision, "Union savers," "Union shriekers," because of their tenacious adherence to the ways of peace, to the Union, to the Constitution? Can the GAZETTE say now, that it believes we should have had a war at all, had the Democratic party remained in power? that the country was not always prosperous whilst ruled by that party?"—Post.

We have said, over and over again, that when the Republicans are beaten at a Presidential election, they submit to the decision of the ballot-boxes, and that when the Democrats are so beaten they either threaten "a war" or actually make one. In this particular, the fundamental difference between their politics is, that Republicans hold their rights under the Constitution and laws to be just equal, and no more, to those of their opponents, while those of the Democrats believe, or profess to believe, they have an exclusive patent from the Almighty to manage the Government, to interpret the organic law, to frame policies of administration—and that there is nothing so palpably unconstitutional as for them to be whipped at an election. Under this view of the case, it is altogether probable there would have been no war had the people allowed the Democrats to go on as aforetime, controlling the Government, and enjoying the honors and emoluments. They would have plunged the country into civil strife in 1856 if they had not elected Mr. BUCHANAN by criminal frauds here in Pennsylvania. All the arrangements were made by them for such a catastrophe. They did promptly resort to war in 1860 upon the election of Mr. LINCOLN; and they are threatening, as we showed conclusively a few days ago, to get up another rebellion in case General GRANT shall be elected next November. There was a period when their bluster greatly disquieted many people; but that time has gone by. Having already essayed the worst they can ever do, and been thoroughly chastised, their threats of fresh disturbances, however seriously made, excite only contempt. The Republicans, neither in 1856, nor at any other time, have threatened war in case they shall be defeated; nor do they threaten war now in case of defeat next fall. Are you answered?

IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS.

On the 11th instant, we published a compilation, making two solid pages of this journal, entitled, "The New Rebellion; or the Record of the Democratic party as made by itself." This compilation consisted of extracts from the speeches of many Southern statesmen, and editorials from many newspapers, showing that the purpose is formed of re-opening the rebellion in case GRANT and COLFAX shall be elected.

Though we printed many thousands extra of the Weekly which contained this document, they are all gone, and we have orders on hand for many thousands more.

On the 17th instant, we published an elaborate editorial headed, "Figures for Every Citizen: Cost of the rebellion—entire receipts and expenditures for eight years—the Public Debt—Federal Taxation." This document, also, has attracted much attention, and we have orders for many thousands of the Weekly containing it for general circulation.

In consequence, we have determined to issue a special edition of the Weekly containing both of these important papers, and shall work off a sufficient number not only to supply all orders now in, but such orders as we reasonably anticipate; and shall be prepared to supply any farther demands by holding the forms over.

We invite orders for this special number of the Weekly from Republican County Committees in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia and elsewhere. It is desirable that these orders should be sent in as promptly as may be.

A number of publishers of County Republican journals have requested us to supply these documents in the form of supplements to their respective sheets. This we are ready to do, on the lowest possible terms, and invite orders accordingly.

The orders we have already in hand will make this special edition at least TWENTY-SEVEN THOUSAND. We trust it will go up to a good many thousands more. Consequently we solicit advertisements for this number—all of which will go into our regular weekly edition as well.

We shall from time to time, during the progress of the canvass, prepare and publish in the GAZETTE other documents of great interest and utility.

THE COST—WHY IT HURTS THEM!

While the present footings for the money-cost to the Federal Treasury of the first Democratic rebellion, amount to four thousand one hundred millions of dollars, it must not be forgotten that any fair estimate of the property destroyed, most of it in the rebellious States, of the damages inflicted upon our maritime commerce, and of the paralysis which a four years' continuance of the war brought upon the productive industry of the people, would easily swell the total up to beyond five thousand millions of dollars. Yet now these Democratic editors and orators have the infinite cheek to find fault with the Republicans for the expense of subjugating their Democratic rebellion. When you hear one of them talking about debts and taxation, ask him if he is not sorry the rebellion was put down at all. Ask him if he and his party could have done the job any quicker and cheaper, and, if so, ask him why they didn't do it. While he is about it, let him frankly declare if he would go in for coercion, or acquiesce in secession, if the thing was to be gone over again

Ask him why Mr. BUCHANAN suffered the rebellion to make head, and supplied the rebels with all the material of war. It will be perhaps convenient for him also to explain that little transaction in cannon, when nothing but the patriotic promptitude of this loyally Republican city prevented the Southern Democracy from securing some three hundred heavy guns to arm the forts along the Gulf and the lower Mississippi.

This whole question of the cost of the rebellion turns upon the graver question underlying it, viz: Was it right to put that rebellion down? If it was right, the expense followed as a matter of course, and is justly chargeable to the party which brought it upon the country, and which now talks, with such pathetic assurance, about debt and taxation. The truth is, they hated the boys in blue, the old flag itself, the Republican triumphs at the polls and on the battle field, the soldiers who fought and the people who paid out their money to give to the war its sinews,—all just about equally. And that's what's the matter!

DEMOCRACY VS. PATRIOTISM.

When, in 1863 and in 1864, the country, receiving from all sources only $375,000,000, was at the same time spending $1,580,000,000, running in debt in those two years twelve hundred millions of dollars; when this rebel Southern Democracy, led by the same HAMPTON, FORREST, TOOMBS, WISE, and others who nominated SEYMOUR and BLAIR the other day, had the old Republic by the throat, and the future of the Union seemed to be enshrouded in a gloom as funereal and hopeless as death itself; when, still fighting as we were, struggling blindly except in the light of that hope which still animated our dauntless patriots, we gave to our creditors the best promises we could make, and, under the pressure, our credit had gone down to forty cents on the dollar—then, we made one more effort to borrow money to carry us through. Where should we get it? Everybody said that we must go abroad, as had always been our practice for National and State loans. We must go to France, England and Germany for the money. Suppose that we had done so; should we have got the money any cheaper, or on any better terms of payment? Would not the foreign capitalist have made the best bargain he could and would he not have stipulated for payment in money, hard cash, good all the world over, not in our new paper promises-to-pay? Of course, he would, and no one could censure him for it.

But "No," said a few of our thoughtful, patriotic citizens: "No! We will not go abroad; our own people have money enough for our needs, and they will trust the Nation quite as readily as would any other capitalists on the globe. Let us appeal to their patriotism, make known the nature of the public needs, and American citizens will take these loans, thus keeping our creditors at home and proving to the world that we cannot only fight our own battles, but pay our own bills." The trial was made; the people responded, and the loans were subscribed for, to the last dollar, by Americans of all occupations and conditions in life, who brought in, the most of them, their fifties, hundreds or thousands, with many doubts as to the ability of the nation to repay them, but feeling that they would risk and, if need be lose, at least so much for their country's cause. And thus was created the debt which Democratic policy asks the American people to scale down, curtail, clip and sweat off into nothing, by their policy of more or less direct repudiation.

If the foreigner had taken your loans, do you suppose there could be any proposition to rob him of his interest, and cheat him out of more of less of the principal he bargained for?

If then, when our paper was less than forty cents on the dollar and our currency was all of such paper and nothing else, the precious metals having entirely disappeared from our sight, you had proposed to the lender, at home or abroad, to repay him, at some future time by giving him another note, how much money would you have succeeded in borrowing? In point of fact, not a dollar, and the Democracy would have carried its point in the destruction of the Union.

Have not your own fellow citizens a claim at least as just upon your honesty and fair dealing in the extinguishment of the debt?

The Democracy would not dare to plunge the country into a foreign war by the repudiation of a foreign debt, but they think they can put the knife to our own people without mercy. Is that the right kind of American Democracy? Or is it because of their inextinguishable hate against all who contributed either of their blood or their treasure to uphold the integrity of the Union?

DISFRANCHISEMENT OF REBELS.

In a paragraph yesterday, we announced the substance of the very important decision by Chief Justice CHASE, pronounced in West Virginia, in a case involving the validity of a constitutional provision of that State disfranchising rebels. We append a full statement of the case, and of the points made in the opinion of the Chief Justice, from the Wheeling Intelligencer:

The case was that of John B. Smith vs. Ruffner, Donnally & Co., one of the defendants being a disfranchised rebel named Miller, who pleaded in abatement to the jurisdiction of the Court, claiming that as he was declared by the amendment to the Constitution of West Virginia not to be a citizen of said State, he could not be sued in this Court. The plea brought in question the legality of the amended Constitution and the construction to be placed on it.

In anticipation of the decision, an interested party there wrote as follows to the Wheeling Register:

"It is expected that the questions of the constitutionality of the disfranchising amendment to the West Virginia Constitution will be decided by Chief Justice CHASE at the present term of the United States Court here. It will be argued on a plea in abatement for want of jurisdiction, in a case wherein a citizen of Kentucky has sued a West Virginian who claims that he is an alien under the said clauses, and therefore this Court has no jurisdiction."

But the decision was not what was expected.

Chief Justice Chase, in delivering the opinion of the Court, in substance said:

"No Court of the United States will decide the question as to the validity of the amendment to the Constitution of West Virginia under the Constitution and laws of said State.

"We think the amendment fairly reconcilable with the Constitution and laws of the United States. The word citizen, as used in the amendment, is not in the sense of that word as used in the judiciary acts—but that certain individuals should not be regarded as citizens; that is, shall not partake of the political powers of citizens.

"The word citizen, as used in the judiciary act, is not in the sense of a political person."

The distinction between the Constitutional status of the citizen and the political rights of the voter is very clearly stated by Judge CHASE. The validity of the principle embodied in the acts, legislative or organic, of West Virginia and other Southern States, limiting the exercise of the right of suffrage by the disfranchisement of rebels, is also clearly maintained. The question becomes, therefore, one of mere local expediency, and as such it is now agitated in Tennessee.

It will be remembered that the validity of the XIVth Amendment, one clause of which excludes the oath-breaking class of rebels from holding offices, either Federal or State, was also expressly recognized by the same high judicial authority, and at the same term of his Court.

THE NEW DEMOCRATIC POLICY.

Said ex-Democratic delegate and ex-rebel General FORREST, at a Democratic Convention in Brownsville, Tenn., on the 10th inst:

It is not our policy to get into another civil war, or a war of any kind at the present time, as it would be used against us and weaken our cause in the North, and I have advised every Confederate soldier whom I have met lately to do all in his power to prevent war of any kind taking place in Tennessee.

That's the present dodge! The war-talk is to be hushed up until after the elections, so that it may not be "used against them and weaken their cause at the North." This is their policy "for the present time." It is a "policy" which comes too late. The Northern people have already heard their boasts, noted their threats and marked their interpretations of the Democratic ticket and platform. The new policy of concealment, and of pacific professions "for the present time" won't do. We hold them to their own record.

THE Charleston Courier contains another editorial cautioning ex-rebel officers to be moderate in their political speeches, for the reason that their extravagance of statement injures the Democratic cause in the North.

STATE POLITICS.

Mr. J. B. PACKER has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the XIVth District, (Dauphin,) in place of Mr. MILLER.

Mr. CALEB N. TAYLOR has been re-nominated by the Republicans of the IVth District, Bucks and part of Philadelphia.

Mr. O. J. DICKEY (as we conjectured a day or two ago) will be the successor of Mr. STEVENS. He was the law partner of the deceased statesman, and has both ability and integrity.

LEWIS D. MITCHELL, Esq., has been nominated by the Democrats for Congress in the XXIIId District. The Republican conferees of this District met yesterday in Butler, but made no nomination.

The Republicans of Chester county have nominated S. M. MEREDITH, ARCHIMEDES ROBB and J. M. PHILLIPS for Assembly.

THE following card from Mr. GROW is so explicit as to make comment upon it by us undesirable:

EDITORS OF THE GAZETTE: The Reno Oil and Land Company (the only company in Venango county with which I ever had any connection) paid all of its debts and was regularly dissolved by order of the court on application therefor by the board of directors. Every dollar subscribed for the stock of the company was paid back in full to the subscribers. Yours, &c.,
GALUSHA A. GROW.

The New Pension Law.

The pension act recently promulgated may be compressed into the following:

The law granting pensions to the hereinafter mentioned dependent relatives of deceased persons leaving neither widow nor child entitled to pensions under existing laws shall give precedence to such relatives as follows:

First. Mothers.
Second. Fathers.
Third. Orphan brothers and sisters under sixteen years of age, who shall be pensioned jointly if there be more than one; provided that if in any case the said persons have left both father and mother and mother dependent on them, then on the death of the mother the father shall become entitled to a pension, commencing from the death of the mother; and upon the death of the father the dependent brothers and sisters under sixteen shall become jointly entitled thereto. Pensions granted under existing laws are not disturbed by the present enactment.

THE Saratoga correspondent of the Boston Post writes: "You remember, my dear Colonel, a stooping habit that prevailed among the fashionable women—chiefly girls—of twenty years ago, which was entitled the 'Grecian Bend.' Well, it has come again, and is really painful to behold. Nix calls it, with singular felicity, the 'cholic stoop!' 'Why don't they try peppermint lozengers!' inquires Nick compassionately, 'it might help the poor things.'"

VOTE THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET or starve, is the language addressed by the Seymour-Blair leaders to the laborers of the South. They distinctly say they mean white men as well as freedmen, and their animosity is more violent toward white Republicans than black. Is this a free country? Let no one hereafter say that the Democratic party does not entertain a tender regard for the rights of the labore.

GRANT AND COLFAX.

Thirteenth Ward.

An adjourned meeting of the Grant and Colfax Club of the Thirteenth ward was held at the Public School House, on Centre avenue, Monday evening, the 17th inst. The meeting was large and enthusiastic, the School House being filled to its utmost capacity.

The meeting was called to order by Robt. Arthurs, Esq., after which the Committee appointed at a previous meeting to divide the ward into districts was called upon for their report, which they submitted, dividing the wards into four districts.

The report was adopted, and the following gentlemen appointed block committees:

First District—Matthew Anderson, John Snell and Jno. S. Lambie.

Second District—Charles P. Duff, Willis Booth, Robert McCoubrey.

Third District—Jas. Hanew, Thos. Bryson, Thos. H. Dickson, and Robert Ray.

Fourth District—Robert Inder, James M. Hunter, and J. H. Hillerman.

John S. Lambie, Esq., Chairman of the Committee on Speakers, then introduced J. E. McKelvey, Esq., who addressed the meeting at considerable length in able and eloquent style.

Mr. Lambie was then called upon by the audience and responded in his usual happy and able manner.

Mr. E. P. Jones was called upon and entertained the meeting with an able address. Mr. Jones held that the same man and the same party which were arrayed against the Republican party on the battle field, were arrayed against us in the present campaign. His position was ably sustained and clearly proven to the satisfaction of his hearers.

The meeting then adjourned for two weeks.

Seventh and Eighth Wards.

A meeting of the Grant and Colfax Club of the Seventh and Eighth wards was held last evening, at the Franklin Street School House, Seventh ward. The meeting was called to order by the President.

The Committee appointed to divide the wards into blocks or districts, submitted their report, which recommended that the wards be divided into fifty-six districts. The report was adopted and the block committees appointed.

The Finance Committee reported that the Club was in a healthy condition financially, the funds having been largely increased since the last meeting.

Over eighty names were added to the list of members.

On motion, it was resolved to hold a grand mass meeting, Friday evening, the 28th inst., and a Committee of Arrangements was appointed.

The Club then adjourned.

The meeting was one of the most harmonious and enthusiastic the Club has held, and the organization is near perfect as that of any Club in the city.

Second Ward.

The Second Ward Grant Club held a regular meeting last evening at their rooms, No. 66 Smithfield street. Mr. Gormly presided and H. A. Collier, Esq., officiated as Secretary. It was reported that a Glee Club, surpassed by none other in the city, had been organized as an auxiliary to the organization. An invitation from the German Committee on Arrangements for the reception of Carl Schurz, inviting the Club to participate in the procession was received, read and accepted. Capt. W. B. Cook was appointed Captain for the occasion, with Capt. James Vick and Mr. John Floyd as Lieutenants. Messrs. Davis, Cook and Houston were appointed a committee to make all necessary arrangements for the proposed procession. After the transaction of other business the meeting adjourned to re-assemble for marching orders at the same place on Monday evening next at half-past seven o'clock. At the close of the meeting the Second Ward Glee Club, under the leadership of Mr. J. Abel Jones, rendered in magnificent style several campaign songs.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

Two laborers were instantly killed, and twelve others injured, some of whom are not expected to recover. The train was backing at the time the accident occurred.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. These are small organs, but very important, and any obstruction or interference with its functions are indicated by pain in the back and loins, languor and weakness, difficulty in avoiding and unnatural color of the urine. A Diuretic should t once be resorted to.

DR. SARGENT'S

Liuretic or Backache Pills

THE BODY RENEWED.

According to Physiologists, the human body is renewed once in seven years. Every day, every hour, every moment, the flesh, the cartilage, bone and muscle of the frame are wasting away, and being imperceptibly replaced by new material. Health depends upon the nature of that material, and whether it shall be pure or diseased, full of vitality and elasticity, or feeble and flaccid, depends mainly upon the action of the stomach. In warm weather the waste of the system is very rapid, and if it is not as rapidly repaired by the great sustaining organ, the consequence is debility, emaciation and decay. It is, therefore, of paramount importance that the stomach be kept in a vigorous condition at this trying season, and the safest, surest and best tonic that can be employed for that purpose is HOSTETTER'S BITTERS. This incomparable vegetable stomachic gives unwonted energy to the digestive powers, promotes the conversion of the food into healthful blood, (which is, so to speak, the raw material of all the solid portions of the body,) and thereby puts the system in the best possible state of defence against epidemic or other diseases. The strong require it to keep up their strength; the weak, to re-invigorate them. It consists of the purest of all diffusive stimulants, charged with the juices and extracts of the most genial roots and herbs, and is a permanent restorative—not a mere temporary excitant. It acts simultaneously upon the stomach, the bowels and the liver, and is the best known remedy for dyspepsia, biliousness, costiveness and general debility.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

Commencing at the Uniontown Branch Junction, about a mile east of Connelsville, Sections 59 to 64 inclusive. Then Sections 65, 73, 74, 76, 80, 81, 82, 83, 84, 85, 86, 87, 88, 89, 90, 91, 92, 106, 110, 112, 115, 116, 117, 118, 119, 122, 128, 129, 130, 133, 140. All of these Sections are in the valley of the Youghiogheny river, up to Section 112 inclusive. Sections 115, 116, 117 are on the Summit, and embrace the Sand Patch Tunnel; and the remainder are in the valley of Wills Creek, Section 140 being about 5 miles from Cumberland.

Specifications of the work on the above sections will be ready for delivery on the 1st of September, at the offices of the Company, at Pittsburgh and Cumberland, where contractors will obtain all necessary information to enable them to examine the line.

The Company reserves the right to reject all or a part of each bid.

700 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. 160 miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is an absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through traffic that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Union Pacific Bonds run thirty years, are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office, in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. The price is 102, and at the present rate of gold, they pay a liberal income on their cost.

The Company believe that these Bonds, at the present rate, are the cheapest in the market, and reserve the right to advance the price at any time.

Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by

JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

JOHN J. CISCO, Treasurer,
MWF NEW YORK.

☞ THE APPETITE FOR

Tobacco Destroyed!

Leave off Chewing and Smoking the Poisonous Weed, Tobacco.

One box of ORTON'S PREPARATION IS WARRANTED to destroy the appetite for tobacco in any person, no matter how strong the habit may be, ☞ IF IT FAILS IN ANY CASE THE MONEY WILL BE REFUNDED. It is almost impossible to break off from the use of tobacco by the mere exercise of the will. Something is needed to assist nature in overcoming a habit so firmly rooted; with the help of the preparation there is not the least trouble. Hundreds have used it who are willing to bear witness to the fact that ORTON'S PREPARATION completely destroys the appetite for tobacco and leaves the person as free from any desire for it as before he commenced its use. It is perfectly safe and harmless in all cases. The Preparation acts directly upon the same glands and secretions affected by tobacco, and through these upon the blood, thoroughly cleansing the poison of tobacco from the system, and thus allaying the unnatural cravings of tobacco.

NO MORE HANKERING FOR TOBACCO AFTER USING ORTON'S PREPARATION! RECOLLECT IT IS WARRANTED. BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS!

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.

W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.

E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

JOHN MORRILL.

Price of ORTON'S PREPARATION Two Dollars per box, forwarded to any part of the country, post paid, on receipt of price. Money sent by mail at our risk. Address,

FINANCE AND TRADE,

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 18, 1868.

It is reported that a prominent stock operator, name well-known, is the head of a bear clique in gold just formed to oppose the further improved movements in gold. For commercial reasons gold is too high at present, but when the political status of Europe and the present Presidential election is fully weighed, it must be acknoledged that higher rates for gold will ensue during the next sixty days. In the causes of the present lower rates on gold and the over-abundance of commercial and second class bankers drafts is the germ of future financial troubles. When gold went beyond the prices at which importers and dealers in exchange could afford to buy they resorted to the expediency of shipping bonds, (promises to pay a debt due now at a future day) and pledged them as collaterals, thus subjecting themselves to all the contingencies of the ordinary market and running the additional danger of a financial crisis in Europe. A more tangible war rumor may affect American securities as much as the vague reports of Wall street gossip did bring down Erie from 96½ to 50⅜.

The Government bond market is rapidly going down, and although an effort was made last night to sustain the market, the heavy sales again by banks and capitalists brought down the market this afternoon another ½ per cent.

The stock market is decidedly weak and lower. The bank statement is very unfavorable, and had particularly a depressing effect on the stock market. Taking everything into consideration, indications strongly point toward lower rates for all bonds and shares representing values.

Business is still very dull, and although in some quarters preparations are made for a larger fall trade, the indications are not very impressive.

Money is scarcer, and will command better rates.

The New York Stock quotations to-day as received by Mr. Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold 145¾; 1881's, 114¾; 5-20's, 1852, 113⅜; do 1864, 108¾; do 1865, 111⅜; do new, 107⅞; do 1867, 107⅜; 10-40's, 108; Cleveland & Pittsburgh 85½; Fort Wayne, 105; Western Union Telegraph 33¾; Adams Express, 47⅜; Erie, 52¼.

—Pool Brothers, pretroleum dealers and refiners, of Oil City and Cleveland, falled, and have since filed a petition in bankruptcy at the latter place. The exact amount of liabilities is unknown, the books having been destroyed in the recent fire at Oil City, but are thought to be about $100,000, with assetts to pay about 50 per cent. The principal creditors are the three banks at Oil City, and a number of dealers.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTEE, TUESDAY, August 18, 1868.

CRUDE—Continues quiet but steady, and while there is but comparatively little doing, prices are well sustained. Indeed, compared with the close of last week, spot oil has advanced slightly, and there seems to be slight improvement in the demand. The sales reported to-day were: 1,000 bbls, on spot, at 13¾c; 1,000 do do at 13⅝c, and 1,000 bbls for September, seller's option, at 14c. All the year, seller's option, may be quoted at 12¾c to 13c. Our Oil City advices report that market quiet, and quotations were given at $5,10 to $5,20—offers to buy at the inside figure, delivered on cars. At no time, perhaps, within this year has the market been in such an unsettled and complicated condition as at present, and business is very much retarded in consequence of the uncertainty which prevades in regard to the future course of the trade. The chances at present seem to be pretty evenly balanced, and it appears to us as if it would take but very little to turn the scale either way. There are those who contend that the latter part of the year is not likely to be as good as the first, advancing as a very strong point, that the foreign exports have been usually large, the shipments thus far in 1868 being nearly up to the entire exports of 1867; while others contend that the demand will be much larger this year than during any preceding year, and that, as a matter of course, a much larger quantity of oil will be required to meet it. That the demand will be much greater this year than any preceding year in the history of the trade is generally conceded, but whether it be large enough to take the the excess in shipments, is a point which has not yet been developed.

REFINED—The market for Refined although quiet is steady, and prices seem to be fully sustained. Sale 500 bbls each for September, and October, at 34, showing an advance of a quarter compared with Monday, when the sume months sold at 33¾. The last half of August was quoted at 33 to 33½; we heard of offers having been made to sell at 33, which if correct, would indicate a slight weakness, as the same delivery sold on Monday at 33¼, and refusals were asked at 33½.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, August 18, 1868.

The general markets are devoid of anything that is new or important, and while business is light, we are in hopes that an improvement is very near at hand. There is still considerable speculating in regard to the crops, and the views of dealers in grain are still very conflicting; one party claims that the yield of Wheat is not as large as was generally expected, and, as a consequence, an advance is anticipated; while on the other hand, there are many, equally as well informed, who contend that the yield is larger than it has been for several years, and that instead of an advance, a decline is more probable. One thing is certain, nearly all of the leading markets, both east and west, have been dull and weak for some days past, with a drooping tendency.

BUTTER—Is in steady demand, and we can report regular sales at 30 to 35 cts., for good to strictly prime. (How does it come that our people are compelled to pay from 60 to 70 cents in market?)

EGGS—Continue very dull, and the supply is unusually large for this season of the year. We continue to quote at 16 to 18 cts.

CHEESE—Is quiet and unchanged, at 14 to 15 cts. for Western Reserve and Hamburg; 16 to 17 cts. for Factory and 19 to 20 cts. for Sweitzer.

HAY—Sales at Allegheny Diamond market of 84 loads Hay at $20 to $30, as to quality; and 3 loads Straw at $15.

SEEDS—There is a good demand for Flaxseed, and the mills are offering an advance, $2,25. Timothy seed is quoted steady at $3 to $3,25. Clover seed is nominal at $7,50 to $8.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged; Allegheny River brands are still quoted at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

GRAIN—Wheat is coming in quite freely though the mills continue to take all that offers at $2,10 to $2,15 for Red, and $2,15 to $2,20 for White. New Oats unsettled and irregular; sales reported at 65 to 68, on track, and in elevator, as to quality, and we heard of one offer to sell at 63. Corn is quiet but unchanged; quotations may be fairly given at $1,05 to to $1,10, for mixed to prime Yellow. New Rye is in demand at $1,30 to $1,35 and but little offering in this market. Prime Spring Barley is selling at $1,70 to $1 75, on spot.

MILL FEED—Sale of 1 car Middlings at $2,17½. The mills quote as follows: Bran, $1,10; Screenings, $1; Shipstuffs, $1,30, and Middlings, $2,20.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is firm, with a good jobbing demand at 14c for Shoulders; 16½ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18½ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Prime kettle rendered Lard, 19¾ to 19¾c. Dried Beef, 21 to 21½c. Mess Pork, $30 to $30,50.

LARD OIL—Is firm but unchanged; we continue to quote at $1,15 for No. 2, and $1,45 for No. 1.

GREEN APPLES—Continue very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; we now quote at $3 to $4 per bbl.

POTATOES—The demand is rather better, but prices are unchanged at $3 to $3,50 per bbl.

FLOUR—The Flour market is quiet and rather dull but unchanged. The mills still quote Double Extra at $11, in barrels, and $10,75, in sacks, and Extra Family at $10,50, in barrels, and $10,25, in sacks. Rye Flour, $9,25.

New York Dry Goods Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 18.—The Dry Goods trade is still a little quiet, and there is a little soltening in the prices of a few styles of Prints and heavy Sheetings, such as Merrimac Prints, which are down 1c per yard, and now sell at 13c, and the Lyman E Sheetings, which are reduced to 16½c by a leading jobber, but the latter can hardly be regarded as a guide, as the goods are fully worth 17½c, being equal in every respect to Indian Head and Appleton A, which sell readily at our extreme figures. In other classes of goods there is no change to notice; however, there is a probability that the leading makes of Prints will be reduced ½c at least to conform with the reduction in the price of Merrimacs, which, for the most part, are not select styles. Woolen goods in improved request, but are generally selling at prices so low as to preclude the possibility of any reduction from the opening rates.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 18.—Flour unchanged; family $10a10,25. Wheat dull and prices lower at the close; No 1 $2,05. Corn in demand but prices irregular; sales of mixed ear at 92a94c, and white at 93a96c. Oats steady at 53a55c. Rye $1,35a1,40. Barley $2,15a2,25. Cotton in retail demand, at 29½c for middling. Whisky dull and held at 70c, but not saleable at better than 65c. Provisions nominally unchanged. There was no demand worthy of note. Groceries steady. Linseed Oil advanced to $1,14, with a speculative demand at $1,12. Petroleum unchanged and quiet, at 33a35c. Gold 145½ buying. Money in better demand. Exchange dull at one-tenth discount buying.

Louisville Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 18.—Tobacco at $7a 14,25 for lugs to medium leaf, and $17,75a 24; sales 102 hhds. Wheat at $2,15a2,25 for red. Corn at 90a95c. Oats at 45a48c. Rye $1,25. Flour at $6,75a7 for superfine. Mess Pork at $2c. Lard at 18¾c. Bacon, shoulders at 14c; clear rib sides at 16¾c; clear sides at 17½c; bulk shoulders at 12¾c, and clear sides at 16½. Whisky at $1,25a 1,30.

Cincinnati Cattle Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 18.—Beef Cattle dull and prices declining; common to prime $3a 5,50 gross. Sheep dull and 25c lower. Hogs in good demand at full prices.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

FROM THE ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

The Greatest Railway Enterprise of the Nineteenth Century—A Proud National Spectacle—Will the Enterprise Pay—How the Government Aids the Project.

The civilized world stood awe stricken and amazed at the vast resources of strength the American nation developed in raising, sustaining and moving the mighty armies for and against the Union in the recently closed wicked rebellion, and everywhere went up the one universal exclamation of wonder and admiration—"Great are the people!" And yet grand and inspiring, truly awful and sublime as was that spectacle, our country to-day, robed in peace and smiling in recuperated energies, presents on a more pacific field to again challenge and win the world's admiration, a still mightier spectacle and one which should fire the public heart with enthusiastic pride and earnest emotion. In war America had the most gigantic armies of brave and daring men the world had ever seen. In peace she presents such an army as few nations could muster together, of skilled laborers fighting under the banner of Industry, smoothing the way for the march of empire and advance of civilization. Hidden in the shadows of the rugged and ragged Rocky Mountains, where they are strangers to even straggling rays of the fresh morning sun, labor and toil, strike and drive fully twenty thousand muscular heroes, upon whom has fallen the god-like task of binding together the great Atlantic and Pacific oceans by one continuous iron chain forged in the crucible of civilization. Their's is no uncommon labor. Breaking down the massive barriers thrown up by nature to hem in the populous east and west, and laying a broad pathway for the iron horse to speed upon, is a task which, even the shrewdest and most learned of the scientific who went before us deemed as impracticalas the tunneling of ths Atlantic seems to-day. The American people dream less than they realize. Projects are hardly developed till they are consummated. Rivers, plains, prairies and mountains present no obstacles to the enlarged intellect and mighty enterprise of the nation, and the culmination of the latter attributes of the people is in the work now going on steadily, systematically and certainly, away out in the region we have been taught to call the far, far west, but which is in reality the true keystone of the country. The stroke of the hammer and sound of the axe is heard in the sharp cut canons or on the snow covered peaks of the Rocky Mountains, ringing out the grandest anvil chorus the world has ever heard, and millions of people in the east and in the west catch the refrain and chant it as a heaven born hymn timed to mark the march of Civilization and ever attendant Christianity.

There cheerfully toil this vast army of laborers, and as a fruit of their systematic and combined efforts, seven hundred and fifty miles of as smooth and compact a railway as there is in the world stretches its length in a line almost as straight as that described by the flight of a cannon ball, towards the point where goeth down the sun. The magnitude of the unfinished work yet before them sinks into the ordinary and common-place as we view what has been so well and rapidly accomplished in the rear. The puffing and fretted locomotive has been coaxed and inveigled over the highest summit on a smooth, solid track which yields neither to the right nor left, nor sinks a single inch beneath the awful weight of the heavily burdened trains which daily whirl along it. The grades are so accurate and yet so deceptive that the watchful traveler can hardly realize that he has reached the base of the mountains before he is descending to the plains after having left behind him the highest point attained on the route.

True, the earlier opinions regarding this grand railway enterprise and the supposed insurmountable obstacles to be reached in its being carried out to successful end have been proven false, and not half the difficulties have been encountered that were expected by even the most enthusiastic believers in the feasibility of the project. But this fact detracts nothing from the magnitude of the work. If the Almighty laid out a pathway for a railroad through the hitherto supposed impregnable mountain divide of the Continent, and suffered man to discover it only when man's necessities demanded its discovery, we should on bended knees thank Him for the inestimable blessing He vouchsafed us. The hand divine certainly marked with unerring fidelity the route over which will soon pass the iron heeled messengers from the Atlantic to the Pacific, and perhaps for ages past God has watched Nature beat down and wear into canons impassable mountain barriers in order that His irrevocable plans for the benefit of His creatures might be ripened and fulfilled. But laying vague theories aside, the accomplishment of the herculean task of joining together the remotest parts of the Continent by rail, will not require the fabulous pots of gold or ages of labor which were predicted even within the past decade of years by learned statesmen and acute scholars. Thus far difficulties have faded away as flowers cut from their parent stems, and the construction has been pressed forward with fabulous rapidity. Nor has a single yard of the work been slighted. Every grade is perfect, every tie laid with refreshing regularity, every rail carefully placed, every spike driven home with fidelity, every curve correct, every bridge and culvert and siding made in the safest, most skillful, substantial and scientific manner. There has been no wasting of material, no mismanagement. As regularly as a faithful old clock goes forward the work, each stroke of the pendulum indicating a tie placed, the minute hand the rail laid, the hour strike the quarter mile finished, the day three miles and more ready for the locomotive. So labor these twenty thousand men. And so will be completed before the incoming of 1870 the great work now half performed, and so also will the traveler be enabled to make the circuit of the world in as brief space of time as a voyage across the sea formerly occupied.

As we stood upon the crest of the Rocky Mountains and breathed the warm, dry air from the western slope, sweeping up like a demon's breath out of Avernus, laden with no drop of moisture to kiss or cool the parched and burning sand, or enliven the wild scattered sage at our feet, and viewed afar off the proud eternal snow capped peaks penetrating the creamy clouds and prying into the mysteries of heaven, and as we looked anon down into the depths of the rugged canon, whose rude walls were fantastically wrought into wierd and ghastly shapes by the waters, poured down by nature since the creation of the earth out of chaos—as we saw all these things and communed with our own soul we burst forth in a fervor unknown before and exclaimed, GREAT ARE THY WORKS, O LORD!

As we again looked and beheld stretched out to the East an iron band glistering in the sunlight and reaching away over mountains and canons, through passes and across rivers, beckoning civilization onward and seducing trade to follow its path, and heard in the distance beyond the heavy stroke of the driving hammer proclaiming more work done, we exclaimed GREAT ARE THY WORKS, O MAN!

Will the Union Pacific Railroad pay? Why should it not? It must prove the most profitable as well as greatest railroad in the world. Within a brief term of years the main line will enrich its stockholders and pay such dividends as will mark a new era in the history of railroads. It must necessarily receive large passenger patronage, and the magnitude and imminency of its freight traffic we would not attempt to foreshadow by any mathematical calculation. There will, within a comparatively brief time, be constructed lateral lines diverging in all directions and penetrating districts teeming with untold mineral and agricultural wealth, which, as feeders, will pour forth millions of dollars of profits annually to the coffers of the Company. The lands owned and traversed by the road will prove another great source of revenue, most being in the finest agricultural district of the world, where the grape will grow, fruit thrive, cereals prosper, timber flourish and cattle grow fat on the fine grass prairies. There is no telling what treasures of mineral wealth are locked up in the Rocky Mountains. Silver and gold, copper and lead, iron and coal, oil and magnetic ore, have been discovered in large quantities, and yet the work of exploration has hardly been commenced. Geologists and lithologists will have opened to them a vast new field for study and development, and ten years hence there will be hundreds of mines and mills at work in these regions. This is not saying too much, although it is with difficulty that one restrains himself from growing enthusiastic over the new region thrown open to help on the progress of America. Of coal alone, bituminous and cannel, the former almost equal to our boasted Pittsburgh article, there has been enough already discovered at the base of the Black Hill range to supply ten thousand cities of ten thousand inhabitants for ten thousand years. This calculation is made not from any systematic array of figures, but from a well founded idea that the supply will prove inexhaustible.

The Union Pacific Railway appears to the masses like a dream. They do not know that the talismanic word of "seesame" has been called by men of energy and enterprise to the great rocky range of mountains, and that in response they have sprung open revealing their hidden treasures to enrich the world as the world was never before enriched. They can hardly realize the rapidity with which the vast armies of muscular men, marshaled under skilled masters, are laying from the west to the east and from the east to the west an iron track between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. When the remaining seven or eight hundred miles shall have been completed, an event which will mark the autumn of 1869, the people will awake to a full realization of the great and mighty undertaking now going forward. Then will our continent be joined to Western Europe and Eastern Asia and the vast travel and freight which will course in this largest railway artery of the world will be so immense as to astonish the civilized world. Independent of the trade which it will draw from the Pacific coast and the old world, there will probably be enough local business afforded from the new districts of country it opens, and which are destined to become in the near future densely populated, to ensure a vast profit to the stockholders. Hence looking on the new road either as a stupendous exhibition of man's pluck and enterprise, or as a financial scheme of the rosiest character, the mind is equally delighted.

It has been estimated that the cost of the first eleven hundred miles of the eastern end of the road will oly reach $82,445,012. These figures approximate the truth closely and the average cost of the seven hundred and fifty miles laid sustain the calculation. The Government grants in aid of its construction are as follows:

1st. THE RIGHTS OF WAY AND MATERIAL, which include all necessary public lands for track, stations, depots, timber, stone, &c.

2d. THE GRANT OF MONEY.—The Government grants its six per cent. currency interest thirty-year bonds to the Union Pacific Railroad, to the following amounts:

On the plain portion of the road, extending from Omaha to the base of the Rocky Mountains, 517 miles, at the rate of $16,000 per mile, is	$ 8,272,000
On the most difficult portion of the road, extending from the eastern base of the Rocky Mountains westwardly, 150 miles, at the rate of $48,000 per mile, is	7,200,000
On the remaining distance westwardly toward the California State line, at the rate of $32,000 per mile. Estimating the distance to be built by the Union Pacific Company, before meeting with the Central Pacific at 1,100 miles, this would leave a remainder of 433 miles, at $32,000 per mile, which is	13,856,000
Or a total for 1,100 miles of	$29,328,000

These bonds are issued only on the completion of each section of twenty miles of road, and upon the certificate of commissioners appointed by the United States Government that the road is thoroughly built and adequately supplied with all the machinery, equipment and fixtures necessary to complete a first-class railroad. The interest on these bonds is paid by the U. S. Treasury, but is a charge against the Company, which is much more than reimbursed by services rendered the Government in transporting its troops, freight, mails, &c. By its charter, the Company receives one-half the amount of its charges against the Government in money, and the remaining half is placed to its credit as a sinking fund, which may amount to a sum sufficient to retire the Government bonds at maturity.

It should be remembered that both divisions of the great Pacific line stand upon precisely the same footing in this and in all other particulars respecting the Government grants.

3d. THE GRANT OF LANDS.—The Government grants to the Company every alternate section of land for twenty miles on each side of the road, making in all twenty sections, equal to 12,800 acres for each mile of the railroad. For a distance of 1,000 miles, this grant, which is an absolute donation, amounts to fourteen million and eighty thousand (14,080,000) acres. It will certainly be quite within bounds to estimate them at an average of $1,50 per acre, and competent experts value them at a much higher rate. On the 7th of March, 1368, the President of the United States signed a Congressional bill which provides that the alternate sections of land belonging to the Government on the line of the Union Pacific Railroad shall not be sold at less than $2.50 per acre.

4th. THE LOAN GRANT.—The Government grants the Company the right to issue its own First Mortgage Bonds on its railroad and telegraph lines to an amount equal to that of the bonds of the United States issued to the Company. By special act of Congress [passed July 2, 1864], these First Mortgage Bonds are made a lien prior to all claims of the Government, or to any claims whatsoever. This gives the Union Pacific Railroad Company the following resources, exclusive of its capital stock, for the construction of 1,100 miles of road:

U. S. Bonds on 517 miles at $16,000 per mile	$ 8,272,000
" " 150 " 48,000 "	7,200,000
" " 433 " 32,000 "	13,856,000
	$29,328,000
The Company's own First Mortgage Bonds to same amount	29,328,000
Land Grant of 12,800 acres per mile, at $1.50 per acre	21,120,000
Total	$79,776,000

The Allegheny Fire Alarm.—Mr. Robert C. Elliott, agent for Gamewell & Co., for the erection of the fire alarm telegraph, commenced work on the Allegheny wires on Monday.

Assault and Battery.—George Harmon made information before Alderman Strain, yesterday, charging John Rockenstein with assault and battery. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

The walks are twelve feet in width. They have also whitewashed the fence which encloses the lot between Liberty and Grant streets.

A Close Contest.—Charlotte Straut made information before Alderman Strain yesterday, charging Kate Close with assault and battery and for surety of the peace. She alleges that Kate beat her in a very shameful manner, and threatened to take her life. A warrant was issued and the accused arrested and held to bail for her appearance at Court.

Admitted to Bail.—Hamilton Curren, of Natrona, was committed to jail yesterday morning to answer four charges of illegal liquor selling. He was subsequently released upon giving bail in the sum of one thousand dollars for his appearance. Wm. Wolbraner, of Baldwin township, charged with selling liquor without license, was also admitted to bail.

Fatal Mistake.—On the 3d inst., Henry Tritt bought the Culbertson drug store at Alliance at Sheriff's sale for $100. While arranging his stock on Thursday, Mr. T. tasted a fluid which he supposed to be harmless, but which proved to be tincture of aconite, a deadly poison. The unfortunata man was soon after seized with spasms and died on Friday evening.

Coat Stolen.—Charles Lelful, a resident of Wylie street, made information before the Mayor yesterday charging a man named Flazer, with larceny, alleging that the defendant stole from him a cassimere coat, worth ten dollars. The defendant is a denizen of Ohio street, Allegheny. He was arrested and committed to jail in default of bail for his appearance at Court.

Alleged Burglar.—Yesterday Mr. Chas. C. Baer, tobacconist on Wood street, made information before the Mayor, charging Linn Gibson with larceny. It is alleged that the defendant participated in the robbery of deponent's store on the night of June 12th, 1867, and carried away sundry meerschaum pipes, cigar tubes and other articles belonging to a cigar store. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused, who it appears is already in jail on a charge of larceny. He will probably have a hearing this morhing.

Committed.—Alice Doran, charged on oath of Matilda Crum with keeping a disorderly house on Penn street, was arrested and taken before the Mayor yesterday and after a hearing was committed to jail. Only a few days have elapsed since Alice was arrested on a similar charge, and compromised the matter by promising to vacate the house.

The Tombs.—We paid a visit to the tombs last night, and were pleased to observe the marked improvement in the general condition, The ceilings and walls have been newly whitewashed, new floors laid and other improvements made which will doubtless be appreciated by the lodgers. Mayor Blackmore deserves much credit for his attention in this direction.

Taken to Hospital.—A girl about nineteen years af age, giving her name as Jennie Reynolds, who has for several days past been loitering along the Allegheny Valley Railroad near Negley's Run, was seriously injured by a passing trsin yesterday morning. It appears that she was sitting asleep near the track with a foot on the rail, when the train passed over the foot, cutting it in a terrible manner. The unfortunate creature was removed to Passavant's Hospital.

Allegheny Zouaves.—At a meeting of this well-known military organization, held at the armory, Wilkins Hall, last night, the following officers were chosen for the ensuing year: Captain, Merit Batchelor; First Lieutenant, C. B. Drennan; Second Lieutenant, D. C. Rankin; Company cook, Geo. W. Lowe. The Company has adopted the uniform of the original Ellsworth Zouaves, of which its Captain was a member in 1859-'60. The Company will receive their arms some time next week, the proper papers having been forwarded to Harrisburg.

The Attention of our readers is directed to the advertisement of Mr. William Hespenheide, merchant tailor, No. 50 St. Clair street. Mr. H. has long sustained high reputation as a fashionable tailor and draper, and persons favoring him with their patronage cannot fail to be pleased. He has at all times a fine stock of cloths, cassimeres and vestings on hand, which he makes up at shortest notice, in best style and at most reasonable prices. Having had long personal acquaintance with Mr. Hespenheide we commend him in earnest terms to our readers.

Coroner's Inquest.

Coroner Clawson yesterday held an inquest on the body of William Manyan, who was killed by the falling of a derrick in West Pittsburgh, Monday afternoon, the particulars of which we published yesterday morning. The jury returned the following verdict:

"That the sa d William Manyan came to his death in West Pittsburgh, on the 17th day of August, 1868, by the accidental falling of a derrick on the Panhandle road. The jury further found that no blame attaches to the contractor under whose supervision the derrick was erected."

Burglary in Allegheny.

Vague reports of a burglary in the Sixth Ward, Allegheny, are in circulation, the substance of which, so far as we could ascertain, are as follows: A Mr. Myler, residing on Beaver Avenue, left home Saturday, leaving his house in charge of his housekeeper, and when he returned on Monday he found that his trunk had been broken open and about $150 abstracted therefrom, and the housekeeper had disappeared. It appears that Mr. M. is a batchelor, and that the only persons about the house was the housekeeper and a blacksmith who boarded with him. The housekeeper has not been heard of and the blacksmith, it is stated, has been spending money very freely within the past few days. The police are working up the case.

The Lese-Verein.

Yesterday we strayed into the German Lese-Verein on Liberty street, and, thanks to two courteous German fellow-citizens, were able to see all that was to be seen. A long room with books down the two sides, windows at one end and a stair-case and colossal bust of Schiller at the other, tables in the middle covered with periodicals, a bronze bust of Franklin on a bracket, and nothing more. Yet those books and periodicals form the only public library of foreign language in the city, and conceal the treasures of the most classical of modern tongues. And we made this discovery yesterday, that while the German citizens do all that others do for their adopted city and country, they still reserve a pleasant nook like this as a monument to beloved Vaterland.

Escape and Capture.

Yesterday morning one of the prisoners in the Western Penitentiary escaped from that institution and succeeded in getting about one square distant before he was captured. It appears that to reach the storeroom, which is on the second floor in the front part of the building, it is necessary to come outside of the main door into the lobby, and the superintendent with two of the prisoners was removing some shoes from the workshop to the store room. The shoes were carried up stairs and deposited in the store room, and the prisoners were being returned to the prison when one of them broke and run. The Superintendent followed and arrested him about a square from the building. The prisoner came back very peaceably. He stated that he had not thought of escaping a moment before he started, that the desire for liberty forced itself upon him so strong as he was returning to the prison that he could not help making an attempt to get away.

After the vote had been announced, on motion, a Committee, consisting of Messrs. E. P. Jones, J. N. Berlin, H. Hays, J. Woolslayer and Fred. Magee, was appointed to wait upon the successful gentlemen and announce to them their nomination, and to introduce them to the Convention.

The Committee retired, and after a short absence returned, and were accompanied by Messrs. Brush, McGowan and Cochrane, who were severally introduced. In response to loud calls, Mr. Brush said: Mr. President and members of the Convention: —Permit me to return my heartfelt thanks to you, and through you to the Union Republican voters of this city, for the undeserved but overwhelming compliment in nominating me to the Mayoralty of the second city of the great Keystone State. If the voters of our city, on the second Tuesday of October next, will ratify the nomination made this day, although I distrust my ability to make as efficient an officer as our great consolidated city requires, I, however, pledge myself to do the best I can to merit the good will of my fellow citizens while in office.

Messrs. McGowan and Cochran also returned thanks for their nominations, and pledged themselves, if the nominations were ratified by the people at the ensuing election, that they would do their utmost to perform the duties devolving upon them, and to merit the approbation of the citizens generally.

The remarks of the candidates were warmly applauded and enthusiastically received by the Convention, throughout which the best of feeling and good humor prevailed.

C. A. Kehew moved that the Chairman be authorized to appoint a city executive committee, to consist of two members from each ward, to serve for the ensuing three years.

The Chairman stated that the Committee would be announced in a few days.

On motion, a committee, consisting of Messrs. E. P. Jones, Henry Hays, T. W. Davis, Wm. Jancey and Fred Magee, be appointed to propose resolutions pledging support to the national and city nominees.

The Committee submitted the following report:

Resolved, That we cordially extend to the city nominees, as well as the entire Republican ticket, our unqualified and earnest support, and pledge to them the entire vote of the Republican party.

Resolved, That in Jared M. Brush, Robert J. McGowan and A. J. Cochran, we have a tower of strength—men well qualified to fill the positions for which they have been nominated, and believe that they will do all in their power to give entire satisfaction to the public.

Resolved, That with General U. S. Grant and Schuyler Colfax as our leaders, and our State, County and City nominees, we will march to a great and glorious victory in October and November next, such as will strike terror to the enemies of our common country.

The Convention then adjourned.

A New Educational Institution—Pittsburgh Male and Female Seminary.

We have already noted the fact that Prof. H. I. Gourley, one of our most prominent educators, late Principal of the Third Ward School, had made arrangements for opening a Male and Female Seminary at Nos. 22 and 24 Fifth street; but as the time for the opening of the institution is near at hand, it is fitting that we should again make some reference to it. The location selected is a good one, being easily accessible from all parts of the city and vicinity, and the rooms are well furnished and admirably adapted for a school for both sexes. The course of study, as we observe from a card before us, will be extensive, embracing all the English branches, sciences, classics, German and French, also bookkeeping. It is designed, as soon as possible after the commencement of the session, to give instruction in singing, and to this end an organ will be secured. Particular attention, we are assured, will be given in cases where scholars wish to acquire a solid English education, and this we regard as an important feature, as no education can be complete without such a foundation. The terms for tuition are very reasonable, and there are no "extra charges." The school will open on Monday, September 7th, and those desirous of arranging for pupils can see the Principal, Prof. Gourley, daily, at the rooms Nos. 22 and 24, Fifth street. We hail with pleasure this accession to our local educational institutions, and doubt not, from the entire fitness in all respects of Mr. Gourley, and the staff of assistants with which he will surround himself, of its success, the prospects so far being of a very encouraging character.

On a Strike.

The compositors on the Erie Dispatch being on a strike, the proprietors publish the following announcement by circular:

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 17.—It is with regret that the proprietors of the Daily Dispatch announce that their newspaper compositors (type setters) are on a strike.

This interferes with and prevents the issue of the paper this morning, and, possibly, to-morrow morning also, owing to the difficulty of procuring a large force of first-class compositors on short notice.

The jobbing department is not implicated in the strike, and work will be attended to there as usual.

We hope our readers will bear with us patiently for a day or two, while we have time to turn about and meet this new phase of newspaper experience.

The Accident on the Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad.

The following of the terrible railroad disaster on the Oil Creek and Allegheny Railroad is from the Titusville Morning Herald of yesterday:

It seems that No 8 freight train was going south, loaded with merchandise and oil, and drawn by engine No. 24. The train was twenty minutes late, and was running at the rate of twenty miles an hour for the purpose of making up the lost time. At the same time, the construction train was coming north, the locomotives being in the rear and the caboose, with the laborers and their tools, in front. Mr. Poor was the conductor of the construction train, and he and others aver that on reaching Rouseville they say nothing of the telegraph operator, but found the following on the bulletin board: "Freight No. 8 has passed."

Feeling assured that the track was clear, conductor Poor ordered his train to go on, and at fifteen minutes past one o'clock the two trains met on a curve near the John Buchanan farm.

The collision was fearful, and the terrific momentum with which the two running bodies met, can only be inferred from the fact that the caboose, with its occupants, was lifted, as if by the arms of some angry giant, clear off the track and hurled entirely over the whole train and dropped clear of the engine.

On the other train two tank cars were thrown bodily into Oil Creek, and the others piled in a promiscuous heap.

But it was inside the caboose of the construction train that the most fearful incidents were transpiring. Here were men, a moment ago full of life, being whirled around in a fearful cage where, as if by the ingenuity of torture, sharp picks, bars, shovels, etc., were crushing, maiming and hacking them.

As soon as the engineers of the respective trains perceived their danger, they reversed their engines and with their firemen jumped off.

Samuel Poor, a brakeman, was badly scalded.

Sinclair, another brakeman, was thrown from between two cars, cutting a frightful gash in his skull and wounding him in the face.

Another man was thrown under a truck, in such a manner that there was scarcely the breadth of a hand between his head and the threatening mass above him, yet strange to say he escaped without the slightest injury.

Anxious to obtain the earliest and at the same time a correct account of this sad affair, we immediately took measures to obtain such a report. Our special reporter went to the scene of the accident on the wrecking train at half-past five o'clock on Saturday evening.

At Rynd Farm the regular passenger train was met, and entering the baggage car a most distressing sight was presented. Laid up in beds and receiving every possible attention were six of the wounded. One of these sufferers had received an internal injury, and in the effort to give his name he could only utter the word "Dennis." Near him was Dan Sullivan with a compound fracture of the right arm and his head badly bruised. Two of the others, badly injured, were named Dennis Readon and Patrick Murphy.

It was a painful ride with these poor wounded men, whose sufferings were intensified by the fact that they had not been procured by a fair battle, and were the results of the criminal negligence of some scoundrel who deserves all the punishment due to the most criminal of murderers. It is due to the Railroad Company to say that they immediately telegraphed to Oil City for surgical assistance, and Drs. Seys and Arter came promptly and rendered valuable assistance.

In concluding this report we call upon the press and the public to unite with us in demanding a full, thorough, and searching investigation of this huge crime. We want no more verdicts of "Nobody to blame." Whether the criminal shall prove to be telegraph operator, or the wealthiest man in the land, we demand his signal punishment, as a just consequence of his crime, and a warning to all entrusted with the care of human life.

Young Burglars Arrested.

Yesterday morning about five o'clock officers Hoyt, Flynn and Gallagher of the Mayor's police, arrested John Clark, John Nelson and Patrick Simpson, boys about ten or twelve years of age, on a charge of burglary. The young scamps had effected an entrance to the grocery store of James M. Jordan, No. 243 Webster street, by one of them climbing over the transom above the door and then opening the door for his companions. They succeeded in getting some five dollars in postal currency, five dollars worth of base balls, and cigars to the value of two dollars. The boys were seen leaving the store, and they were pursued by some officers who had been notified of the robbery. They were arrested on Fulton street and conveyed to the watch house, and were locked up without being searched. Shortly afterward they were observed secreting the stolen property, which was recovered. After a hearing they were committed to jail for their appearance at court.

A Magnificent Deed.

The deed of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for the old Pennsylvania Canal, now occupied as the road bed for the West Pennsylvania Railroad, has been left at the Recorder's office to be recorded. It is one of the most elegantly gotten up documents of hte character we have ever seen. It is written on parchment of a very fine quality and covers about sixty pages quarto post size. Around the edge of each page is a neat gilt border about half an inch wide. The penmanship is really beautiful, not a blot or erasure appearing on the face of the entire paper. It is interleaved with silk tissue paper for the protection of the written pages, and the whole is neatly bound in Turkey morocco, with a gilt finish. The deed was made in 1867. It has been recorded in Philadelphia from the original, and copies have been made for the counties intervening between Pittsburgh and Philadelphia through which the old canal passed.

Watch Recovered.

Officer Hess, of Allegheny, Monday last recovered a watch which had been stolen from a trunk owned by Jacob Wesley, who was drowned about a year ago in the Allegheny river, near Herr's Island. The day he was drowned and before an inquest was held on the body, some person went to the boarding house of deceased, broke open a trunk belonging to him, and took therefrom a silver watch and a black cloth cloak. An effort was made at the time to apprehend the thief, but he eluded arrest. Yesday morning officer Hess, who had the case in hand, found the watch at the store of C. Lay, on Ohio street, Allegheny. Mr. Lay stated that he had purchased the watch from a man named Jake, a resident of Washington county. The officer fully identified the watch as the one stolen, and took possession of it. He subsequentiy handed it over to the Coroner, in whose hands it now is.

Heavy Robbery—Arrest of the Thief.

Yesterday the tug-boat I. F. Davis arrived at the Manchester wharf to undergo repairs, having ran into a snag in the Ohio river, sustaining serious injury. The Captain, Thomas R. Chester, paid off his hands and put the boat on the dock. One of the deck hands, named William White, returned in the evening and stated that he had expended all his money, and begged for a place to sleep. The good hearted Captain granted the privilege, and left the boat, together with a wallet containing $550 in a desk, in charge of the fellow last night. On his return, Captain Chester found his wallet on the floor rifled of its contents, and the man White missing. He immediately set out in search of him and was fortunate enough in overhauling him at the Union Depot, on board one of the eastern bound trains. Calling officer Johnson to his assistance White was arrested and conveyed to the tombs. He then made full confession of his theft and handed over to Capt. Reed $543,85 of plunder; having expended the balance. The prisoner showed but little ingenuity in concealing his crime and evidently is no practiced thief. He hails from New Philadelphia, Ohio, and is but seventeen years of age. He will have a hearing this morning.
